ROOFING CANADA AWARD

FOR EXCELLENCE IN THE ROOFING INDUSTRY

CALL FOR ENTRIES

Roofing Canada Award

BACKGROUND

The Roofing Canada Award program recognizes CRCA members for outstanding workmanship, innovation, service to the community and service to the industry and is sponsored by the Canadian Roofing Contractors Association (CRCA). All entries will be recognized by their peers for their significant contribution to the roofing industry.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTION OF THE AWARD WINNER WILL INCLUDE:

Workmanship: Outstanding workmanship in a roofing application by a contractor and roofing crew. This can include a particularly challenging job, difficult design job, extraordinary working conditions, difficulty of application of materials used, etc.

Innovation: Innovative solutions can include innovative project solutions to challenging jobs, smart solutions to a problem, special safety considerations, environmentally friendly projects, etc.

Service to the community: Service to the community can be a project where materials and/or time were donated to a worthy project that benefits the community.

Service to the industry: Service to the industry may include a significant contribution made to the roofing industry overall in Canada.

ELIGIBILITY

Unique roofing-related jobs, programs, and services that were completed in the last two years by CRCA members will be eligible for the competition.

The submitter can be employed by the roofing contracting company being nominated. Entries can also be submitted by CRCA Active, Associate and Industry members and CRCA Affiliate Associations.

ENTRY SUBMISSION

Send entry forms and entry materials to:
CRCA - Roofing Canada Award
2430 Don Reid Drive, Suite 100

JUDGING CRITERIA

Judges are recognized professionals within the roofing industry and will use the following criteria to evaluate proposals.

- A. Uniqueness of the project or activity
- B. Benefit to the roofing industry in Canada
- C. Use of innovation

THE REWARD

The Roofing Canada Award will include a plaque for the winner that can be displayed at their workplace. In addition the recipient's name will be added to the main Roofing Canada Award plaque showing all past winners located at CRCA's office.

The Roofing Canada Award recipient will be formally recognized at an Awards Ceremony during the CRCA Annual Conference.

Recipients will also be recognized in CRCA's Roofing Canada magazine and newsletter.

ENTRY PREPARATION

Your entry/application will consist of the following items:

1. The official entry form including a description of the job, program or event.
2. Any relevant entry materials, in addition to the entry form from your company for consideration. Photographs, booklets and such are recommended but should only be submitted if they help describe the uniqueness of the project.
3. Package entries carefully. Applicants are responsible for all shipment and postage. CRCA cannot be held responsible for loss or damage to any entry submitted.
4. All entries become the property of CRCA. Do not send irreplaceable materials.

WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR ENTRY

1. Entries are screened at CRCA office to verify eligibility.
2. Each entry is individually evaluated according to official judging criteria.
3. The highest ranking entries will be evaluated to determine the recipient of the Roofing Canada Award.
4. The decision of the judges is final, and scores for individual entries will not be disclosed.
